L. O. ASSOCIATION.

An emergency meeting of the members of L. O. L. 1617 of this place was held in the lodge room on Wednesday, the 12th inst., for the ostensible purpose of giving a welcome to Bros Kernaghan and Cook on their return from the sitting of the Territorial Grand Lodge at Regina, and to express their satisfaction at the elevation of Bro. Kernaghan from the position of Grand Secretary to that of Right Worshipful Grand Master. Refreshments having been partaken of, W. M. Maveety, in a neat speech welcomed Bro. Kernaghan on his return and tendered his hearty congratulations to him upon the high honors that had been conferred upon him without a single dissenting voice in the Grand Lodge. A handsome illuminated address was then read and presented to Bro Kernaghan by the chaplain, Bro. J Stewart, on behalf of the Brethren of L O. L., 1617, couched in the following words:—

W. J. KERNAGHAN, ESQ.,
Grand Master of the Grand Orange Lodge of the North West Territories.
Right Worshipful Sir and Brother,

We the Master and Brethren of North Star, L. O. L. No. 1617, beg to express at this time our heartfelt and supreme satisfaction in welcoming you back on your return from your labours at the recent session of the North West Territories Grand Orange Lodge, lately held at Regina and this pleasure and sacrifice are doubly enchanced when we learn that you have been unanimously appointed to the highest position which the Brethren of these Territories assembled at the Capital could possibly bestow upon you. While conceding that this appointment was in every respect justly earned by you, and that your labours hitherto in the cause of Orangeism fairly entitled you to the high distinction bestowed upon you, yet we cannot help feeling a certain amount of pardonable pride and gratification that the one selected for this high office is member of our own lodge, a Brother going in and out amongst us, and to whom we are largely indebted for the establishment and maintainence of the Order amongst ourselves, and we trust that the same guiding hand which has hitherto controlled the destines of our beloved Order in this and other lands will still continue to shed his benign influence over us, and especially extend his blessing upon you in your exalted position, and use you as an instrument in more widely extending our principles in these Territories, so that all may see that ours is a cause which enjoys the favour of the Most High, and used by him in upholding the blessings of an open bible and liberty of conscience.

Assuring you of our hearty congratulations and our earnest prayers and good wishes for the future welfare of your and yours, both in the world that now is and in the world to come, we remain,

Right Worshipful Sir and Brother,
Yours fraternally,
On behalf of the Lodge,
J. D. MAVEETY, W.M.,
J. T. PETERMAN, D.M.,
JAMES STEWART, Chap.

Bro. Kernaghan, who was quite taken by surprise, relied in a very interesting speech in which he set forth the progress of the order in the Territories and expressed his satisfaction at the healthy growth of the principles of Orangeism in this country. He was followed by Bro. Cook, who in a clear and forcible manner gave an account of the proceedings of the Grand Lodge. After a few remarks from several of the Brethern present expressive of their pleasure that one of themselves had been promoted to the high position of Territorial Grand Master, the meeting separated well pleased with the proceedings of the evening.

RELIEF IN SIX HOURS.—Distressing Kidney and Bladder diseases relieved in six hours by the "GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN KIDNEY CURE." This new remedy is a great surprise and delight on account of its exceeding promptness in relieving pain in the bladder, kidneys, back and every part of the urinary passages in male or female. It relieves retention of water and pain in passing it almost immediately. Sold by J.G. White & Co.

THE LATE JACOB BEADS.

The past two years have been memorable for the great mortality amongst the old residents of this district, the latest addition to the list being Mr. Jacob Beads, of Saskatchewan Forks, who passed peacefully to his feet on the evening of the 14th ult. at the age of 68 years.

Mr. Beads was one of the last if not the sole survivor of Dr. Rae's Franklin search expidition and survived his commander, of whom he spoke in terms of high respect, by but a few months. He had also the honor of bringing the first grist mill into the district, the remains of which are still seen in the ruins of the old windmill immediately south of the town, and which for many years did good service for the earliest settlers under his management. The old gentleman was remarkable for a kindly disposition, and preserved in the highest degree that cordial hospitality so characteristic of the old native stock. When in the employment of the Hudson's Bay Company, or still earlier while with his father, who was similarly engaged, he travelled extensively through the Territories, but especially through the almost unexplored regions surrounding Hudson's Bay and being naturally gifted with keen observation and a retentive memory, he contributed greatly to the enjoyment of friends and guests with his interesting reminiscences of those comparatively unknown regions and the soon-to-be-forgotten early times and struggles in which he bravely bore his part. A member of the Church of England, he was induced through the high personal esteem in which held the late Bishop McLean to make that denomination the handsome present in 1875 of a large portion of the ground on which Emmanuel College now stands. The thought is pleasing that by his interment in St. Mary's cemetry on the 28th inst. he rests in nature's longest sleep beneath the sod of what was once his own domain. By his death the settlement loses a good neighbor, who will be much missed and not easily replaced, and the community extends its warmest sympathy to the bereaved family of whom a wife, two married daughters—Mrs. J. S. Letellier and Mrs. Peter Turner—and an unmarried son and daughter survive,

ADVICE TO FARMERS.

Indian Head, April 2, 1894.

To the Editor of the Times,

Permit me through the columns of THE TIMES to advise the farmers to bluestone their oats and barley before sowing, this spring, where these are not badly affected one pound of bluestone to every ten bushels is sufficient, but if very smutty one pound to five or seven bushels shall be used. In all cases use one and one half pails of water to one pound of bluestone, and seed should be thoroughly mixed while bluestone is being applied.

Except in two cases of barley, which was very smutty, one pound to ten bushels gave good results on Experimental Farm last year.

Yours very truly,
ANGUS McKAY,
Supt.

LIBERALS ORGANIZE.

A meeting to complete the organization of the Liberal party, of Saskatchewan, was held, in Saskatchewan Hall, last Wednesday. The meeting was well attended and was largely representative. Notwithstanding the bad state of the roads, there was a good attendance of farmers. The President, Mr. Montgomery, was in the chair. He briefly explained the object of the meeting. The minutes of the last meeting having been read and adopted, the proposed constitution and by-laws were read, revised, and unanimously adopted. Arrangements were made to organize by school districts, and districts not so formed, for the purpose of each sending one delegate to a convention, to be held in Prince Albert, on Wednesday, May 23rd, when a candidate will be selected to contest the constituency at the next Federal election.

PRINCE ALBERT, APRIL 6 1894

One of the Brooklyn justices found guilty of abusing the election machinery, is supposed to have come to Canada. When last heard from he was at Niagara Falls heading east.

When the American in China is dragged up to a photographic machine and has his picture taken like a contributor to the rogues' gallery, he will appreciate the feeling of the friendless Chinaman in the States who is compelled to undergo the same process.

Perhaps the only industry in the United States which has shown an increase so far in the current fiscal year is the manufacture of oleomargarine, for which the Government is loth to take credit unto itself, as the moral to be deduced from the figures might destroy the comfort of the increased taxes that have gone into the revenue.

Mr. Powderly is suing the Knights of Labor for $3,000 odd for back pay and expenses. When these gentlemen quarrel among themselves, nothing can exceed their resentment towards each other, and the fatuous platitudes about the brotherhood of man and the rights of the masses, in which they are so fond of indulging, are seen in their true light.

The Australians who were induced to go to Paraguay to found a colony have met with failure and what is left of them would walk home only the sea is wide and wet. Sometime the British people will awake to the fact no countries present such opportunities for profit and advancement as their own. Then they will stay at home and develope the land which Providence has put in their keeping for their own good.

It is not generally known that the United States exports brandy to Europe; but the New York Shipping List records a single shipment last week from San Francisco of 313,445 gallons, being the largest single shipment that has ever left a United States port. The cargo, which also embraced 200 barrels of red wine and 105 barrels of port wine, was destined for Germany, 400 barrels of the brandy being for the army hospitals in that country.

Rumors come from Washington that a failure of "diplomacy" is to be expected in connection with the Behring Sea legislation. Nobody need be alarmed, American "diplomacy" always begins with rumors of failure, next threats and afterwards various critical stages. But in the end the business instinct in the nation triumphs and it is found that no departure from the strict lines of Washington diplomatic logic has taken place. It is a way they have which must be patiently borne.

The Yankees are stealing our fish in Hudson's Bay. If they owned that bay they they would chase every Canadian fisherman out of it or tax him so high as to drive him out to sea. Therefore Canadians should look after their interests in Hudson's bay and make the Yankee's pay for the privilege of fishing there.

The chiefs of Tammany are travelling around the country in palace cars while the workers are riding to Sing Sing in plain second-class smokers because of election frauds, and a wild wail goes up from many New York election districts, that the chiefs have "trun down" the workers and left them a prey to punctilious and overbearing justice. So there is mutiny on all sides, and Tammany totters to its fall.

With a Canadian line of steamers equalling in speed and capacity the flyers built for Cunard company, Canada will be brought within five days sail or less of Great Britain, and as time in the transport of passengers and merchandise is the essence of success in ocean travel, the Yankees won't be in it with us after a while. They see this themselves and we may expect growing ill feeling from that quarter on this account.

The New York Herald says: Since the decline of the shipping interest in this country, not only have we lost the vast opportunities of national enrichment which foreign trade in our ships once afforded us, but we are now paying about two hundred million dollars a year to foreigners to do our freighting business on the ocean." And the Americans will continue to pay for the service. They have been so long out of the trade to regain what they have lost

Music as a medicine—Dr. Bently's treatment of his patients in the insane asylum with a course of musical diet has commenced under favorable auspices. The first of a series of concerts which the physicians in charge have arranged has been a decided success and since music is a medicine it is essential to provide the very best and a proof of the Uxbridge Piano being the best is in the fact that nearly one hundred of these instruments have been sold in Toronto, Ont., in less than one year, in competition with the best piano made in Toronto and New York, the Uxbridge Piano being winners in every competition.

TO THE PUBLIC:—In my practice, and in the capacity of Veterinary Editor of the "Family Herald and Weekly Star," I have had occasion to test the merits of "Dick's Horse and Cattle Medicines." I have found them so thoroughly reliable that I have prescribed them in hundreds of cases, in all of which they have proved highly satisfactory

Raised from the Dead

Long and Terrible Illness from Blood Poisoning

Completely Cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Mrs. Mary E. O'Fallon, a very intelligent lady of Piqua, Ohio, was poisoned while assisting physicians at an autopsy 5 years ago, and soon terrible ulcers broke out on her head, arms, tongue and throat. Her hair all came out. She weighed but 78 lbs., and saw no prospect of help. At last she began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and at once improved; could soon get out of bed and walk. She says: "I became perfectly cured by and am now a well woman. I weigh 128 lbs., eat well and do the work for a large family. My case seems a wonderful recovery and physicians look at me in astonishment, as almost like one raised from the dead."

HOOD'S PILLS should be in every family medicine chest. Once used, always preferred.

TOWN TOPICS,

The Journal of Society,

(32 PAGES.) (THURSDAY.)

NEW YORK.

Is universally recognized as the most complete weekly journal in the world.

Its "Saunterings" columns are inimitable. Its society news, especially of the doings of the 400 of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, and all over the world, is not equalled by any newspaper. Its Financial Department is authority with all bankers and brokers. Its "Literary Show"—notes on current literature—is by the cleverest of reviewers. Its "Afield and Afloat" makes it the most interesting paper for all lovers of sport—yachting, football, rowing, shooting, fishing, etc. Its "On the Turf" excels all other racing notes. Its burlesques, poems and jokes are the cleverest. Its stories are by the best writers—among them Amélie Rives, F. Marion Crawford, Julian Hawthorne, Edgar Fawcett, Gilbert Parker, Mary J. Hawker ("Lanoe Falconer"), Barry Pain, Paul Bourget, Rudyard Kipling, Ambrose Bierce, etc., etc., and are, even if a trifle risqué, yet always clever, bright and pretty, without coarseness or anything to offend the most refined and moral woman. In addition to all this there is each week a supplement, portrait, in colors, of some man eminent in his walk of life.

Tales From Town Topics

Quarterly, first day of March, June, September, December: 256 pages; 12mo. Contains in each number, in addition to short stories, poems, burlesques, etc., from the old issues of TOWN TOPICS, a complete, original prize story of 120 to 150 pages

No one who enjoys the highest class of fiction, and would be au courant with all that pertains to good society, can afford to be without TOWN TOPICS every week. There is so much interesting reading in it and in the "Tales," that a club subscription to both will supply any family with abundant reading of the most entertaining character all the year.

RATES:

Town Topics per annum, $4.00. A trial subscription for three months, $1.00, and a specimen copy of "Tales" Free.

Tales From Town Topics, per number, 50 cents. Per annum, $2.00.

Both Clubbed, per annum, $5.00, and any two previous numbers of "Tales" you may specify Free. Send 10 cents for sample copy TOWN TOPICS.

BANQUET.

Old Timers Hold Their Second Annual Banquet

On Red River's shore back twenty years or more
They lived like the pr[illegible]
N[illegible]
[illegible]
The masters the Lo[illegible] the Fr[illegible]zers, the [illegible]
The Pritchards and a Bannatyne,
Worked hard through the day and danced night away.
'Til the sun in the morning did shine.
Then come every man of the Red River clan,
For the Old Timers give three good cheers,
And let your memories keep and never hold them cheap.
The memories of bygone years.

Over fifty hale and hearty old timers and their friends sat down to a well appointed table, at the Queen's Hotel, on Wednesday evening 4th inst, the occasion being the second annual dinner or re-union of what promises soon to be[illegible] a vigorous association of old timers or "seventy-niners," those pioneers who were in Manitoba and the Territories prior to the year 1879 The following gentlemen were present at the banquet a few as guests of the old timers, but the majority were genuine seventy-niners, the men who in those early days, blazed the pathway by which civilization entered and took root in the Great West. J F Betts, M.L.A., T. McKay, M L A, Major Cotton, J. Lestock Reid, Capt Allan, Inspector Strickland, Geo. Russell, Angus McKay, Fort a la Corne; Edward Taylor, J. M Kay, Charles Adams, Alex. Campbell Murdoch McLeod, F. C. Sinclair, Richard Moir, J.E. Sinclair, Wm. Plaxton, Justice Wilson, Indian Agent McKenzie, Duck Lake: T.J. Agnew, F. C. Baker, J. Pritchard, W. R Gunn, James Stewart, J D Hanafin, Peter Robertson Sergt. W. Parker, Geo. L. Brown, W. McBeath, T.H. Brooks, D[illegible] M. L[illegible] W. Hutchison, J. F. A. Stull, [illegible] Gaynne, Mayor Stewart, W. Traill, Dr Reid, W. Galbraith, T.N Campbell, Jas. Taylor, R. McDonald, Warden Northgrave, Jas. Sanderson, and two friends just arrived from Scotland: H.E. Ross, J.A. McCaul, W. Drain, A. Ballantyne, M. Coombs, and C.R. Stovel. J.L. Reid occupied the chair and Messrs. T. McKay and J F Betts were first and second Vice-chairmen, respectively.

The first toast, The Queen was presented by Mr. Reid in a loyal speech, in which the virtues of our sovereign lady were highly extolled. Needless to say of a Prince Albert audience the toast was right royally honored.

The toast of the Governor-General and Lieutenant-Governor was next and was received by the company singing For they are jolly good fellows.

J.D. Hanafin was called upon for a song, and sang in excellent form "Men of Harlech," Sergt. Parker following with the "Roast Beef of Old England"

Chairman Reid proposed the health of The Flag coupled with the names of Major Cotton and Capt. Allan, referring to many historic events in connection with the British flag, which Canadians consider just as much theirs as do Englishmen. Mr. Reid was loudly cheered when he declared against independence or annexation. The British flag won this country and it is going to keep it, and we are not going to be ruled by race, but the old flag must and shall float from Father Point to Puget Sound.

Major Cotton endorsed the chairman's remarks about the Flag and believed that none could be found who would shed their blood more readily for their country than the old timers. No man, be he ex-lieut.-governor, or any one else, can say that the old flag shall be done away with.

Capt. Allan responded in a speech bristling with patriotism and good points Having had the honor to serve under the old flag almost since he was born, he could say that no slaves ever existed in that service. Canadians should put down anything which savors of bandying the old flag about for political purposes. Capt Allan concluded by singing, "The Island Home of an Englishman."

The toast House of Commons and Legislative Assembly, coupled with the names of two very old timers Tho. McKay, M.L.A. and J. F. Betts, M L A Mr. McKay made a brief speech in reply It gratified him to see so much interest taken in these gatherings He was here before we had any government but the country has gradually been getting concessions and making good use of them that he believes we are in a fair way to receive the full measure of responsible government. He thought that though power was a good thing in its way if we had more money we could get along with less powers.

Mr. Betts expressed his pleasure in having been called upon to respond to the toast. He endorsed Mr McKay's remarks in reference to responsible government. The best evidence that the country was able to government was that practically speaking all law of the Assembly were wise, and instancing this he said that the North West Assembly has had fewer of its acts disallowed than any other province, and though in many ways our district has made more advancement than others, yet certain circumstances had placed other districts in much more favorable conditions for progress. Still we are all happy in our homes and the population is steadily increasing in the legitimate way.

The chairman suggested forming an Old Timers Association, which will probably occur very soon. He then called on the 1st vice chairman to announce his part of the programme, proposing in a few well chosen remarks the toast of "The Land We Live In," which brought forth an eloquent and lengthy response from Mr. James Taylor, a gentleman whose long residence in the country, his intimate knowledge of its early history and of its resources was peculiarly fitted for the task.

James Sanderson followed with a well rendered song, "Robby [illegible]son's Smithy."

The toast of "Absent Friends" was replied to by Mr. Betts, who spoke in feeling terms of many old timers who have passed away, who were in their day among the mightiest lights of the settlement

T. H. Brooks favored the company with a song, "Rule Britannia."

The toast, Days of Old, was responded to by James Stewart and Wm. Traill, was heartily received.

Mr. Stewart recalled many interesting memories of the good old days, of his life in the regions of the Arctic Circle and the Red River Settlement. All was harmony then As an old settler he was glad to see the many improvements of modern days, yet he recalled with great pleasure the bye gone days when the people got along without the bailiffs and usually settled all their differences over a glass of rum.

Mr. Traill, formerly in charge of the H B. Post here, had arrived at Prince Albert in 1871 He told many interesting tales of life in the company's service in those days.

H. E. Ross then sang, "Cruiskeen Lawn"

Traders of '79 was replied to by Messrs. T. J. Agnew, Sinclair and Galbraith, and Capt. Allan sang "Tom Bowl[illegible]."

Mr. Betts next proposed a toast to the Agricultural interests, naming Chas. Adams and Wm Plaxton in connection. Mr. Adams referred to the fact that having seen the whole country he preferred this district to all the others. He had never had a bushel of frozen grain nor in fact anything but No. 1 hard, and was satisfied that better times were coming when the farmer would reap better reward for their toil.

Mr. Plaxton also responded with some practical remarks about farming and the inimitable William Drain gave one of his characteristic funny speeches in response to the toast of The Tenderfoot, followed by James Sanderson with a well rendered song, Sergt. Parker sang "The Wail of the Tenderfoot." Other toasts proposed were:

The Learned Professions, replied to by Dr Reid and W R Gunn.

The Press, C. R. Stovel.

Our Guests, Jas. Stewart and R. S. McKenzie.

Benedicts of Prince Albert, Justice Wilson.

Song, "The Flag of Old England" by T. J. Agnew.

The toast of Our French Canadian Fellow Citizens was heartily responded to by G.R. Russel, T. McKay, M.L.A [illegible]

The Ladies found a champion in T. N Campbell and H E Ross and F.C. Sinclair gave a couple of lively songs. A toast to Mr and Mrs. Oram followed by Auld Lang Syne brought the banquet to a conclusion.

PERSONAL

F. W Meyers, M L A. of Kinistino, spent a few days in town this week.

Messrs. J McCullough and P. Conner, from Wisconsin, arrived here Saturday They intend taking up claims near here.

Ralph Connors, Carrot River, was in town this week on business. This will be his last visit till after seeding is over.

Mr T.H. Borthwick lost a bright little boy by death this week. Mr and Mrs. Porthwick have the sincere sympathy of the community.

Mr. Hawke, traveller for the McCleary Manufacturing Co. of London, came in Saturday last.

J M Campbell, the Stoney Creek merchant, left for home yesterday. This will be Mr. Campbell's last trip to town till after the opening of navigation

T H. Brooks is in from Fishing Lake on a business trip. He returns to the lakes Tuesday next, and reports a good season's catch.

Mr. Kidd, Tisbury Junction, a practical miller is here and conferring with the town authorities as to the advisability of erecting a flour mill in the town.

The weather has turned decidedly mild the past few days. The snow has almost disappeared, and sleighing is about at an end.

Mr. Justice McGuire left on Monday last on a trip to the coast. His honor will also visit the California Midwinter fair before returning

We regret to record the death, this week, of Mrs. J. S[illegible], of the eastend. Mrs S[illegible] was the daughter of Mr D. N[illegible], who with his family and the bereaved husband have the sympathy of their many friends.

An entertainment is to be given at the Barracks Recreation Room on the 19th inst., in aid of a most worthy object, one however which has not of late been very much heard of by the public, viz:—the Prince Albert Hospital. Tickets are now on sale at the Post Office and at Mr. Bakers Bookstore. Teams from the Barracks will be in attendance. The Entertainment is to be of a dramatic character and promises to be interesting, and the patronage of the public is looked for, especially as the object for which the entertainment is held is such a deserving one

HOW IS THIS?

Something new even in these days of mammoth premium offers. It is the latest effort of Stafford's Magazine, a New York monthly of home and general reading.

The proposition is to send the Magazine one year for one dollar, the regular subscription price, and in addition to send each subscriber fifty-two complete novels during the twelve months; one each week.

Think of it. You receive a new and complete novel by mail, post paid every week for fifty-two weeks and in addition you get the magazine once a month for twelve months, all for one dollar. It is an offer which the publishers can only afford to make in the confident expectation of getting a hundred thousand new subscribers. Among the authors of the coming series are Wilkie Collins, Walter Besant, Mrs. Oliphant, Mary Cecil Hay, Florence Marryat, Anthony Trollope, A. Conan Doyle, Miss Braddon, Captain Marryat, Miss Thackeray and Jules Verne. If you wish to take advantage of this unusual opportunity to send one dollar on Stafford's Magazine one year. Your first copy of the magazine and your first number of the fifty-two novels (one each week) which you are to receive during the year will be sent you by return mail. Remit by P.O Order, registered letter or express.

Medical Hall

We are under the necessity of informing our customers and the public in general that from this date forward we will positively refuse to extend credit for anything in our line of goods, unless by special arrangement. We are forced to this decision by the accumulation of small accounts which in the aggregate means a great deal to us. Individual purchases are usually for small amounts and we think it within the reach of everyone to comply, especially when our prices are so fair and reasonable. Drugs, Patent medicines, Toilet articles, &c., as well as all prescriptions filled by us must therefore be paid for at time of purchase We think this course will eventually prove mutually benificial, and will positively not deviate therefrom.

GROCERIES.

We place quality first. We advertise no low lines of cheap grade goods; for it is not possible to quote lowest prices for the best goods; we offer our customers no baits give no chromos, which cost money, and for which the consumer pays. We have our price, and our percentage of profit, so in the long run our consumers have paid less, at the end of their years outlay.

What we mean to imply is this: We sell no particular line at cost, and charge you double on other goods, to make up our profit. Same figures throughout grocery department.

Just now we would call your attention to our canned goods, Fruits, Sauces Cheese, Teas, Coffees, and our prompt delivery

VIRTUE.

What It is and What It is not.

By Lady Cook, nee Tennessee C. Claflin.

So spake the Cherub; and his grave rebuke
Severe in youthful breast, added grace
Invincible; abashed, the Devil stood,
And felt how awful goodness is, and saw
Virtue in her shape, how lovely saw and Pin'd his loss.—Milton.

Words have different and sometimes contradictory meanings. They have different meanings in different ages or stages of development of the peoples by whom they are designed and used; they have different meanings in the mouths of different classes and individuals; and, finally, they have different meanings when applied to different classes of persons, and pre-eminently it appears, in respect to some important words when applied to different or opposite sexes.

These different meanings of words so applied, and so differing when applied, reveal a whole history and a whole philosophy. They tell where the world stands in its ideas. There is nothing more instructive and interesting than the study of words from this point of view. The unconscious meaning of the word is often more by far than its common meaning.

Notably does this happen in respect to the words free and virtuous as applied to men and women.

A free man is a noble being; a free woman is a contemptible being. Freedom for a man is emancipation from degrading conditions which prevent the expansion of his soul into godlike grandeur and nobility, which it is assumed is his natural tendency in freedom. Freedom for a woman is, on the contrary, escape from those necessary restraining conditions which prevent the sinking of her soul into degradation and vice, which it is, all unconsciously, assumed is her natural tendency. In other terms, the use of this one word, in its two-fold application to men and to women, reveals the unconscious but ever-present conviction in the public mind, that men tend, of course, Heavenward in their natures and development, and that women tend just as naturally Hellward.

In the light, frivolous flattery of women by men, just the contrary of all this is assumed—namely, that women are naturally angels, and that men are more gross and brutal, and would be quite so but to the elevating influence of women; and with a few superior men this is said earnestly and truly. But the unconscious testimoney contained in the ordinary use of the word free, as applied to men and women respectively, is not eradicated, nor in any sense weakened, by these casual exceptions; and that testimony, is, simply, that it is currently believed, by both men and women—(for men have heretofore made opinion, for the most part, for women in respect to women)—that freedom is a condition desirable and favorable for men, because men are naturally good, and require only the opportunity to show that fact, but a condition undesirable and unfavorable for women, because women are naturally bad, and require only the opportunity to show their innate tendency to vice or wickedness.

Insulting as this estimate is to our sex, it is the basis on which the whole question of social freedom is argued by the outside world. It is naively and continually assumed that, if social restraints were removed, all women, the mothers and sisters and wives and daughters of our virtuous male citizens would immediately and incontinently go to the bad. Men are every day virtually saying this of their own mothers; and women are thoughtlessly chiming in, and pronouncing the ban of reprobation upon the name of their own womanhood. It never seems to occur to either party that the true woman's soul would expand into a higher purity in freedom, just as we recognize the manly soul is exalted by the possession of that same precious boon; that absolute freedom is even more essential to the looks and growth of a true womanhood than it is for the development of true manhood; and that, as man's freedom is chiefly political where his life centres, so woman's freedom must be social, her life centering in the social relations.

In the same striking way the two uses of the word virtue tell the same sad tale of the popular estimate of the character of the two sexes. The very word virtue is I believe, partly derived from the Latin vir, the distinctive name of man, and meant originally "manliness." It was natural in a crude age that all question of womanliness should be left out of account. Even in respect to man it was the warlike quality of mere physical strength which was first prized, and which first received the name of virtue; we retain this general idea of strength, or efficiency; as the first meaning of virtue still: as when we speak of the virtue of a medicine, of a public measure, and the like. But in this more spiritual and cultured age, virtue, as applied to man, has risen to a higher degree of significance, and now means moral goodness, or a general conformity of the whole life to high moral ideas and purposes. But applied to woman, it is confined to a narrow and insulting specialty. It means that woman has never been approached in a special way by man; and nothing but that. Apart from that special idea of virtue, the woman may have all the nobler qualities of her sex, be a pattern of generosity, inspiration religious emotionality even, and she is not virtuous, and never can become so; but if she is sound in that matter, she may be a virago, a thief, or a fiend, but she is perfectly virtuous—she possesses that which is "prized above rubies."

All this is simply execrable. It is degrading, insulting mockery, to define female virtue in this way, or in any way different from a man's virtue. And women are constrained to accept these disparaging discriminations by an organized social opinion which is excessively tyrannical. From the mere imputation of impropriety in this one particular, women shrink and cower in the most abject terror. This slavery to opinion must be abolished; women must vindicate their right to an absolute freedom in their own conduct, except that they have no right to encroach on other. The revolt against any oppression usually goes to an opposite extreme for a time; and that is right and necessary. We cannot render the terms "libertine" and "rake" as opprobious as men have made "mistress" and "courtesan"; though the former is simply the feminine of "master" and the latter signified primarily, in the feminine sense of the word, "a female courtier." Let us, then, resort to the opposite tactics, and take the sting out of these bad words by having a consciousness of rectitude, and then not shrinking from any imputation whatever. The world enslaves our sex by the mere fear of an epithet; and as long as it can throw any vile term at us, which we cower before, it can maintain our enslavement. It is not "freedom" alone, but every other epithet intended to degrade that woman must grow strong enough to defy before she will be free. I do not mean that she shall be what these words are meant to convey; but merely that she shall let the world know that female virtue means hereafter something different; that it means in a word what would make a man virtuous and good. He or she who would be free must defy the enemy, and must be ultra enough to exhaust the possibilities of the enemy's assault; and it will not be until women can contemplate and accept, unconcernedly, whatsoever imputation an ignorant, bitter lying, and persecuting world may heap on them, that they will be really free. If the terrible epithets with which the world stabs the reputation and tortures and murders the souls of women were evenly distributed, according to the world's own idea of justice, it would be some mitigation. But it is notorious that women in society who really offend most, against the conventional idea of virtue, often go through life unscathed and with acceptance everywhere, and have the reputation, in a sort of Pickwickian sense, of being immaculate; while others, who never dreamed of offending, are branded and expelled.

Women must, therefore, be their own defenders, and what I recommend is, to blunt the weapons of calumny by a complete indifference to what the world says, one way or the other, where the strength can be summoned for such a course. Let your motto be, "My mind to me a kingdom is." Satisfy your own idea of right, propriety, and purity, and defy Mrs. Grundy to do her worst

COLLESTON ITEMS.

A very successful social was held in Colleston presbyterian church, on Wednesday evening 21st ult, Mr. Watt occupied the chair. A choir from town was present and rendered some very select peices. Mr. and Mrs. Rochester sang a song entitled "A vote of thanks," which was heartily encored and to which they responded Rev. Mr. Cook delivered a very appropriate address, which was highly appreciated Master Tommy McCoy and Master Johnny Nelson each gave a recitation which was well received, this being their first public appearance. Mr. Thos McCoy the Secretary Treasurer, gave the financial statement of the congregation He said although there was a great cry of hard times, still it was the best statement that there had been for five years and he hoped that tariff reform might be introduced and then next year might be better Mr A. Knox gave a recitation, for which he was encored and responded with a piece entitled "Tarring the cow," which fairly brought down the house. Mr. Rochester then gave a stirring address. Mr. Thos McCoy moved a vote of thanks to the chair and those who had helped to make the social a success. It was seconded by Mr. McKeen and carried unanimously. The social was brought to a close by all joining in singing the sixth doxology.

Colleston School has been open for the past two months under the care of Miss Beattie who is proving a great success.

Mr. Watt is to be left in charge of Colleston presbyterian church for the next six months.

Mr. Robertson holds service in Colleston every second Sunday.

The young people of Colleston are thinking of forming a tennis club

There is to be a meeting in the School House here soon to appoint a delegate to attend the liberal convention to be held on the 23rd May.

JAMES TAYLOR,
ASSIGNEE

Prince Albert, March 25 1895.

How many persons know that Ripans Tabules, now so largely advertised and used, are simply the favorite prescription of their family doctor prepared in a scientific manner and a form convenient for handling, conveyance, preservation and use? In the great hospitals of the metropolitan cities, where the wealthy find better care than in their own luxurious homes, the ingredients of Ripans Tabules are administered to thousands of rich and poor alike with beneficial effect. They are the main dependance of the most eminent physicians in cases of derangement of the digestive organs, such as dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness and other ills connected with the stomach, liver and bowels. For some years one of the principal hospitals in New York City has used a formula, differing slightly from the common one, that has been found of unusual efficacy. Through the commendations of physicians its mission of healing has been so widely and rapidly extending that it finally seemed desirable to prepare the prescriptions in a convenient form, so as to make it available to the whole public at a moderate price, and to announce the fact through the recognized medium for securing publicity—advertisements in the columns of the newspapers of the land. This has been done, and now the time is not far distant when every family of intelligence will be as certain to possess a supply of Ripans Tabules as a clock or a cooking stove. They are already to be found on sale almost everywhere, and any druggist or dealer will supply them. A box, containing six vials, is sold for 75 cents, and a gross package, containing four boxes, for $2. They will be sent by mail, post paid, to any address, on receipt of price, by the Ripans Chemical Company, No. 10 Spruce St., New York.
